Introduction

Cumbria O & M Services (COMS) is a provider of project, pre-operational, operational, maintenance support and asset management activities which are specifically aligned to the energy industry. We hold significant technical experience in the development and delivery of engineering, operations and safety case strategies and solutions. Our capability supports existing operational facilities, post operational clean out (POCO), decommissioning and new build projects.

Capabilities

Cumbria O & M Services (COMS) is a Whitehaven based SME formed by two very experienced local engineers who are committed to the challenge of supporting the British Energy Coast by providing cost effective, fit for purpose and efficient resolutions.

Our team of professional, innovative like minded individuals is drawn from within Cumbria. Between us we hold a wealth of expertise developed through many years of safe performance in the Nuclear and Pharmaceutical industries. We fully utilise this extensive range of knowledge in the delivery of effective solutions to support the safe management of the energy sector and the acceleration of the UK nuclear legacy clean up programme.

COMS collaborate with other supply chain SMEs to create alternative access routes for greater capacity and delivery capability.

Through successful development and growth it is our intention to provide increased support to local community activities and generate further employment opportunities.
